

Circle Collection

I am experimenting with the use of different materials, especially ones that are not recyclable. For the Circle Collection, plastic pull tops from orange juice containers are combined with grey fresh-water pearls to create this organic look. This piece can be transformed in anything you want. It can be worn long down to the belly, or short, just by making some loops, or it can become a crazy huge ring. To make one necklace we need about 100 pieces, that's a lot of fruit juice and a lot of time!!! It would be impossible to make these pieces without the help of all the people collecting with me.

recycled plastic pull tops from orange juice containers, grey fresh-water pearls